THE LOW-VACUUM, ZERO-BUBBLE BOTTLE THAT HELPS PREVENT EAR INFECTIONS AND COLIC

Go to site

Feeding bottles and high-vacuum

When sucking on feeding bottles, a negative pressure (vacuum) is created inside the bottle. This pressure is often high and forces the baby to suck hard to feed. Repeated sucking - about 40 for a 250 ml (8.4 oz) meal - generates unnatural strain, which is potentially harmful and can cause ear infections.

The consequences of vacuum: ear infections, lack of appetite, fatigue and colic

More than 60% of children under the age of 3 have at least one episode of Acute Otitis Media. The high vacuum in the feeding bottle creates negative pressure inside the middle ear, a possible cause of painful infections and ear infections⁽¹⁾. These unnatural efforts can cause inappetence, fatigue and colic because the baby tends to pull away from the nipple and to swallow air.

(1) Brown CE, Magnuson B. On the physics of the infant feeding bottle and middle ear sequela: ear disease in infants can be associated with bottle feeding. Int J Pediatr Otorhinolaryngol. 2000 Aug 11;54(1):13-20. PubMed PMID: 10960691.

The patented LOW VACUUM valve of the J BIMBI® feeding bottle

The J BIMBI® feeding bottle valve naturally balances vacuum and reduces the risk of earaches and ear infections. It allows physiological and controlled sucking just as with breastfeeding. A comparative test showed that the J BIMBI® feeding bottle is the most effective in reducing the vacuum inside the feeding bottle (negative pressure), up to 5 times compared to the best feeding bottles with anti-colic valve.

Vacuum comparison test

It reduces vacuum by up to 5 times compared to the best anti-colic feeding bottles

Feeding bottles and air bubbles

The vacuum caused by sucking is usually balanced in feeding bottles by the passage of air through the nipple.

The air slowly mixes with the milk in the form of tiny (even invisible) bubbles and can contribute to gas colic.

The consequences of air bubbles: colic and reflux

More than 40% of infants suffer from colic due to ingested air trapped in the intestines, and gas is also one of the causes of reflux and regurgitation in infants. Artificial feeding increases the frequency of colic compared to breastfeeding.

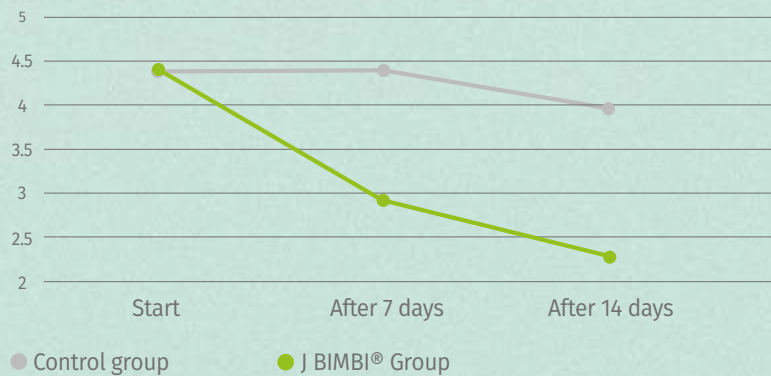

The ZERO-BUBBLE cannula of the J BIMBI® feeding bottle

The J BIMBI® feeding bottle cannula prevents the formation of air bubbles, possible causes of colic, reflux and regurgitation.

It can be removed after the first few months when colic disappears without the need to change the feeding bottle.

A study carried out on infants suffering from gas-induced colic showed that the J BIMBI® feeding bottle reduces colic symptoms in 90% of cases from the first week of use⁽²⁾.

THE ADVANTAGES OF THE J BIMBI® FEEDING BOTTLE

Extra soft orthodontic nipple with a 360° symmetrical shape, made of high quality medical grade silicone, for physiological and gentle sucking. Just a slight tongue pressure, like breastfeeding, is sufficient to obtain the right amount of milk. Easy acceptance of the nipple and feeding bottle thanks to its unique 360° shape, like the mother's nipple, that does not lead to refusal of the mother's breast.

Patented LOW VACUUM valve to naturally balance the air vacuum inside the feeding bottle and prevent ear infections. Made of medical grade silicone, it is easy to clean and accessible in every part.

BPA, PVC
Phthalates FREE

Made of glass (Borosilicate) or polypropylene (PP), free from bisphenol A, PVC and phthalates.

The J BIMBI® glass feeding bottle is recommended for the first few months because:

- it prevents colic and ear infections
- it does not trap the fats and nutrients of milk on the inner walls
- it preserves the bactericidal activity of breast milk
- it is the best material for heating milk
- it is extremely hygienic

After the first months, replace the glass feeding bottle with the polypropylene one once the baby can hold it independently.

It is compatible with J BIMBI® manual breast pump

Non-drip cap
and nipple protection.

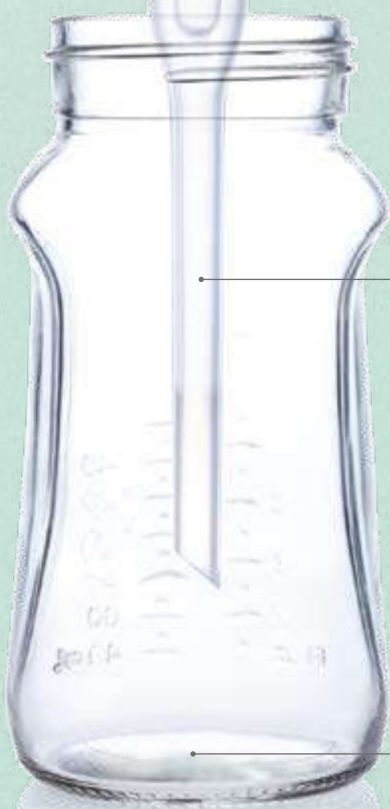

Multi-function ring nut,
it guarantees an optimal seal, allows the insertion of the One for All handles and to replace the nipple with the Sippi spout to transform the feeding bottle into a cup.

Sealing disc
to turn the feeding bottle into a convenient milk container.

Anti-drip system
to prevent leaks during feeding and bottle transport.

Removable ZERO-BUBBLE cannula
to prevent the formation of air bubbles in liquids and prevent colic.
Easy to clean thanks to a special brush supplied with the feeding bottle.

Closed bottom
for better sealing, hygiene and handiness.
It allows placing it on a flat surface without compromising sterility.
No microholes that could clog or be a receptacle for dirt and bacteria.

PACIFIERS DESIGNED BY EXPERTS AND LOVED BY BABIES

Go to site

The J BIMBI® pacifiers designed by experts

There is no perfect pacifier because the mouth of each baby is different and constantly growing. But with the help of pediatric orthodontists, J BIMBI® has developed an innovative range of pacifiers that guarantee maximum safety and the highest quality standards in accordance with scientific medical proof.

Safe materials, latex and rubber-free

Pacifiers can be made of silicone, a safe, hygienic, odorless and tasteless material, or of latex (rubber), a natural material derived from rubber, which can cause allergies and sensitization.

All J BIMBI® pacifiers are made of medical grade silicone free from bisphenol A, PVC and latex (rubber) to ensure maximum safety and hygiene.

Symmetrical nipple

The nipple must have dental characteristics that allow correct sucking, so it must be:

- thin at the base so as not to obstruct the exact positioning of the mandible at the junction of the upper and lower jaws, favoring the correct closure of the mouth
- flat to accommodate the natural position of the tongue, which rests spontaneously on the palate in a resting position
- with a shape that distributes the pressure of the tongue over the palate to promote its regular development
- of a size appropriate to the age of the child so as not to create excessive obstruction in the mouth
- soft and flexible

The J BIMBI® drop-shaped symmetrical nipple is orthodontic and adapts in every position to the baby's mouth without interfering with breathing and tongue positioning. It has a thin, sturdy neck to allow babies to close their mouth properly and resist to their little teeth. Thanks to its extreme softness and Skin Effect finish, it is loved by every baby.

Ergonomic and aerated shield

To avoid redness and irritation, the pacifier must promote saliva drainage and proper aeration of the skin around the mouth.

J BIMBI® pacifier shields are ergonomically designed: the symmetrical, curved shape is designed to keep the nose and chin as free as possible by adapting to the shape of the face for maximum comfort. They also have large ventilation holes and massaging microspheres that ensure air recirculation.

With no handles and hard rings

The shield is of fundamental importance for the baby's safety and can be either rigid or soft. In both cases, it must not have rigid rings or handles to reduce traumatic effects in case of falls, as recommended by SIPPS (Italian Society of Preventive and Social Pediatrics).

J BIMBI® pacifiers have a soft, small handle that guarantees maximum safety.

Glow in the dark

J BIMBI® pacifiers are also available in a Night version that glows in the dark.

Charged with daylight, they are easy to spot at night thanks to the brightness of the shield or the luminescent silicone, a WORLD FIRST launched by J BIMBI®!

NON-NUTRITIVE SUCKING AND THE PACIFIER

The instinct to suck begins when the baby is still in its mother's womb and represents a fundamental stage in the baby's psychophysical development.

Therefore, a pacifier is not a bad habit, but a fundamental need of the baby: non-nutritive sucking can be a momentary substitute for the mother's breast, a "soother" and an ally of mothers and fathers to calm the baby and make the baby fall asleep.

A pacifier is a very important tool for stimulating non-nutritive sucking and offers, when used correctly, several advantages:

- it is recommended when the baby sleeps to reduce the risk of SIDS
- improves coordination
- has a calming effect
- helps digestion
- it is better than thumb sucking

0-36 MONTHS PATENTED BODYSUITS THAT CAN SAVE YOU MONEY AND HELP THE ENVIRONMENT

Go to site

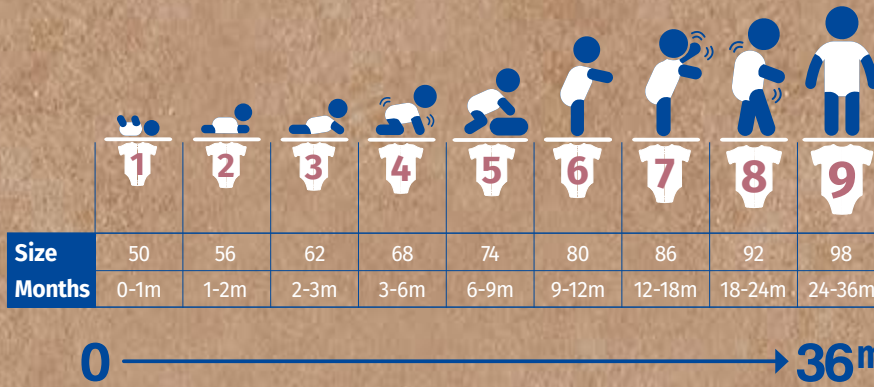

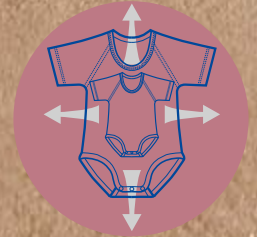

0-36^m Smart-extensible

one size fits all

Thanks to their extreme extensibility and durability, 0-36m bodysuits fit the baby with a single size from 0 to 36 months.

Regular and well-known branded bodysuits cover the baby's rapid growth from 0 to 36 months with about 9 sizes.

Money-saving

Money-saving as a single size will fit the baby from 0 to 36 months.

Divide the price of a 0-36m bodysuit by 9, then compare it to the price of a regular bodysuit and you will understand that quality has never been so affordable!

Advantageous and highly profitable

By reducing the range of stocked sizes, they allow you to offer a vast assortment of fabrics, colors and models, even in the smallest and most optimized retail spaces.

Safe and organic

OEKO-TEX® certified: free of harmful substances and safe for babies' skin. Bio Cotton bodysuits are made of GOTS-certified organic cotton. Bamboo bodysuits contain also bamboo fiber (48%) that makes them super-soft.

Eco-friendly

Eco-friendly as they decrease the overall demand for bodysuits. In addition, packaging and the environmental impact caused by their production are reduced, lowering energy and water consumption, pollution, waste disposal, etc. 0-36m bodysuits contribute to leaving a better world for our children.

0-36m bodysuits are also perfect with reusable diapers (usually more voluminous than disposable ones) because they cover them completely without creating constraints or limiting the baby's movements. Just like reusable diapers, 0-36m bodysuits represent an ecological and cost-effective alternative. J BIMBI® is committed to developing products and supporting sustainable projects for the planet and for the future of our children.

Gentle

They offer a reassuring containment in contact with the skin, just like a loving hug from mom and dad.

For all seasons

J BIMBI® bodysuits are available in the following models:

Summer: cool for summer - sleeveless

4Season: all year round - short sleeves

Warm: warm for winter - short sleeves

Patented

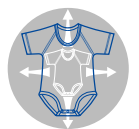

The one size fits all cotton bodysuit production process is internationally patented.

Bodysuits for premature newborns

J BIMBI® MY HERO THE BODYSUITS DESIGNED FOR PRE-TERM BABIES

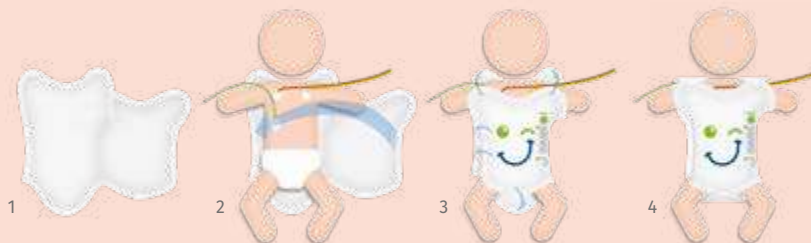

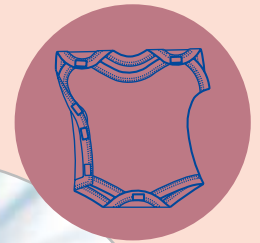

J BIMBI®, sensitive to the needs of fragile babies, has developed a specific line of hospital and home bodysuits in collaboration with NICUs (Neonatal Intensive Care Units):

- My Hero NICU (hospitals) bodysuit
- My Hero Extra-Small bodysuit

My Hero NICU bodysuit - for hospital use

NICUs have specific needs that cannot be met using standard bodysuits for premature babies. The My Hero NICU bodysuit meets the needs of these departments.

- It opens up completely for maximum ease of dressing and diaper changing and at the same time provides a reassuring containment in contact with the skin to improve the stability of the preterm baby
- It is manufactured with extremely soft and extensible organic cotton to favor gentle handling, or pampered care, which requires gentle movements that are not stressful for the baby
- It features 6 strap-on closing and opening points and not the traditional metal buttons that cannot be used in combination with some diagnostic equipment such as MRIs. The fit is also suitable to accept tubes, cables and medical dressings
- It is safe, free of harmful substances and it is OEKO-TEX® certified
- It is available in 0.4 - 1 kg size (for feather-weight babies) and 1 - 2 kg size

the video

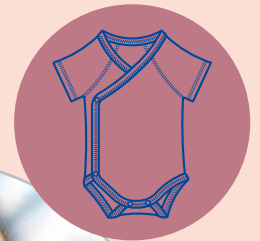

My Hero Extra-Small bodysuit

When discharged from the NICU, premature babies are still very small and ordinary baby bodysuits are not the right size.

For this reason, J BIMBI® has developed the My Hero Extra-Small bodysuit, a model specially designed for small and premature babies.

- The Extra-Small size guarantees a perfect fit from 44 cm / 17.3 in onwards
- Designed and tested in neonatal care for premature babies
- The practical kimono closure makes changing easier and fits the newborn comfortably
- Made of soft organic cotton certified GOTS
- Safe because it is OEKO-TEX® certified (free of harmful substances)

The My Hero NICU bodysuit is not just a garment, but a means of making the parent-baby relationship closer and stronger. Dressing the baby and seeing the baby dressed provides a sense of normality, giving hope and strength to the parents. My Hero NICU is characterized by an unmistakable and friendly smile that bestows hope and positivity even in difficult moments.

J BIMBI® supports the NICUs in Italy by donating free My Hero NICU bodysuits and/or J BIMBI® feeding bottles
